The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The recited "hydroquinone" in claim 9 is incorrect. Claim 10 contains the trademark/trade name Tinuvin. Where a trademark or trade name is used in a claim as a limitation to identify or describe a particular material or product, the claim does not comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph. See Ex parte Simpson, 218 USPQ 1020 (Bd. App. 1982). The claim scope is uncertain since the trademark or trade name cannot be used properly to identify any particular material or product. A trademark or trade name is used to identify a source of goods, and not the goods themselves. Thus, a trademark or trade name does not identify or describe the goods associated with the trademark or trade name. In the present case, the trademark/trade name is used to identify/describe good and, accordingly, the identification/description is indefinite.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 5 and 7-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Orlowski et al (US 4,427,799) and Randklev (Re 32,073).

Orlowski et al teach the instant two phase composition substantially in example 3. EBA would meet the instant diluent and adhesive monomer, and Orlowski et al further teach employing other monomers such as triethyleneglycol dimethacrylate in examples 4-7. UV absorber of said example is taught at col. 4, lines 12-14 wherein the instant 2-hydroxy-4-methoxybenzophenone is taught. Orlowski et al teach tertiary butylhydroxytoluene (BHT), and the instant 2,6-ditertiarybutyl-4-methylphenol butylated hydroxyl toluene is an obvious choice since the use of a derivative a compound is routine practice in the art. The instant invention further recites hydroquinone monomethyl ether over Orlowski et al. Randklev also teaches employing a polymerization inhibitor such as hydroquinone monomethyl ether at col. 6, lines 58-60.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to utilize triethyleneglycol dimethacrylate in example 3 of Orlowski et al since Orlowski et al teach employing other monomers such as triethyleneglycol dimethacrylate in examples 4-7, and further to utilize hydroquinone monomethyl ether of Randklev in both phases of Orlowski et al since the use of a polymerization inhibitor in order to prevent premature curing (during storage) is well known in dental art absent showing otherwise. Randklev also teaches Tinuvin in example which is art well known UV absorber and thus the use of said Tinuvin in Orlowski et al would be obvious.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US Pats. 5,122,061, 5,228,907 and 5,444,104 teach dental composition comprising Bis-GMA.

Claims 2-4 and 6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
